MISS ANNIE'S RESTAURANT & BEER GARDEN

3926 Hwy. 43 South St. Joseph, TN 38481

Miss Annie's was built in 1928 by Annie Evers who was of German descent. She had retired from the Noel Hotel in Nashville, TN. on the corner of Church and Fourth St.

A Pavilion was built here for a dance hall; it had hardwood floors and beaded ceilings, which are still in existence today. Bud Morrow closed the dance hall in 1931 while he was the sheriff of Lawrence County, TN.

Miss Annie added on, framed it in, and made it her home. In 1933, after prohibition was lifted, it was made into a Beer Garden. At the time, it was the only licensed Beer Garden in the state of Tennessee and as far as we know to this day, is still the only one. After many years and several tenants later, Michael and Darlene Roberson bought it in 1991. Michael leased it out until 1995 and then started operating it as a Beer Garden and serving sandwiches. In 1997, he started running it as a full restaurant and the business has grown steadily ever since.

In 2004, Miss Annie's was closed for the expansion of Highway 43. The restaurant was relocated a few hundred feet back, expanded, and proudly reopened in 2008.

Thank you for your patronage and welcome to Miss Annie's!
